

Ref. No: DIT/March23/ 2058

Dated: 09-03 2023

All Respected Deans and Chairpersons,

Subject: Implementation of New Departmental Information Management System

The Directorate of Information Technology, University of Balochistan, has recently developed a new software system named as departmental information management system (DIMS), with the purpose to empower the academic and associated departments / sections. The software system will facilitate the academic department in creating / generating its degree programs, semesters, courses and to enroll its students, program-wise in each semester, along with creating/maintaining online fee and attendance record. Furthermore, it will facilitate the faculty members for marking/grading the students online subject wise. The software will have specific access / user interface for Head of Department, teachers and enrolled students. The DIMS implementation orientation/training session by DIT will be held in each respective department as per following schedule:
