Abstract:

The opposition which is found in the literature for delight and literature for life with regards to literature ideology has actually come into existence to achieve its aims. Literature for life assigns the aims for literature of before hands, which will be counted as a non-literature deed; rather the ideology of literature for delight actually breeds the literature. Because this not only reflects the politics of the time and the social life, but also exemplifies the beautiful imaginary and logical romance and beauty. The writer unknowingly reflects the society in which he lives in his literature. Thus literature for life doesn't complete the necessities as compared to the literature for delight.

Key words: literature, aim, life, ideology, necessities.
