Abstract:

Khushal Khan Khattak as he said himself "I have taken up the sword to defend the pride of the Afghan" indicates that he has been forced by the situation to hand the sword and fought successive wars. In such way his poetry postulates and preaches for taking up sword for the cause and that why we found nothing but abundance of war-related terminologies and imagery in the fool of his poetry. Apart from that very perspective the world remembers and depicts him as a fighter and warrior on the basis of his verses, he has been a great preacher of peace and amity that could be found easily in the life span motto of Khushal Khan Khattak clearly. On the basis of Numbers of approaches in his poetry could not negate the reality of branded warrior but he has also been found a realist, a great advocate of peace and amity as well. This paper is an academic endeavor to highlight the peaceful thoughts of Khushal Khan Khattak which have not been introduced in the light of authentic and reliable source.
